

This is a detailed aerial map of the Corno di Rosazzo area in the Friuli Venezia Giulia region of Italy. The map is oriented with North at the top. The central focus is the town of Corno di Rosazzo, which is densely built up and surrounded by a mix of green fields and brownish agricultural land. To the north of Corno di Rosazzo, the map shows the town of Casali Godia and the village of Casali Comini. Further north, the town of Gramogliano is visible. To the west of Corno di Rosazzo, the map shows the town of Casali Godia and the village of Casali Comini. Further west, the town of Rosazzo is visible. To the east of Corno di Rosazzo, the map shows the town of Sant'Andrzej and the village of Sant'Andrzej. Further east, the town of Vercò is visible. The map also shows the town of Dolegna del Collo and the village of Dolegna del Collo. The map includes labels for various locations, roads, and geographical features. The map is divided into several sections by vertical lines, suggesting it is a multi-page spread from a larger map or atlas. The overall tone of the map is a mix of green, brown, and grey, representing the natural and built environment.

