

diminishing world of authentic Austrian handicraft.

The production of leather breeches includes the tanning, the cutting and the sewing. Richly embroidered, knee-long or long, with complicated sews, the old-established workshop Jahn-Markl (Residenzplatz 3) does it all. Jahn-Markl's leather breeches are very much sought after for their high quality. For the best leather breeches (as well as riding trousers), supple deerskin is used.

In the year 1890 the confectioner Paul Fürst created a bonbon that was to become Salzburg's most famous sweet, the Mozartkugel. He took green marzipan balls, covered them with nougat and dark chocolate. More than 100 years later, the Original Salzburger Mozartkugeln are still hand-made according to the original recipe by the forth generation of the Fürst family. Although many industrially produced Mozartkugeln are sold everywhere in Salzburg, if you are looking for the originals, you only get them at Fürst Konditorei (Brodgasse 13, Mirabellplatz 5 and Roseggerstrasse 25).

The art of binding flowers is one of Austria's oldest and most traditional handicrafts. Masters of this typically female art are the Renzl family from Salzburg and their team. With much feeling and an eye for colours and forms the ladies create wonderful arrangements of silk flowers, artful table decorations and, of course, the famous Salzburg Gewürzstrüsschen, a bouquet of herbs and spices. Pay a visit there (previous reservation required) and let them introduce you to the secrets of flower binding. Salzburger Blumenschlüssel, Eichertstrasse 9-11, T: 83 23 57.

Carving is another craft that is nearly forgotten. When you are looking for hand carved statues, chandeliers of chess figures, you should visit the Drechserei Lackner (Badergasse 2, T: 84 23 85). On two floors you find everything from small gift objects to original Austrian country furniture (painted and carved) and hand-made tables.

Those interested in arts and crafts should not miss a visit to the open-air museum in Grossgmain. Apart from old farmhouses you can see demonstrations in basket-weaving, cross-stitching, textile painting, slipper making, carpentry and other traditional crafts (July 6, 13, 19, 20, 27; August 3, 10, 15, 16, 17, 24). Open Tues-Sun 9am-6pm. Freilichmuseum Grossgmain, T: 85 00 11.
