

How To Find Us

The Highland Folk Museum has two complementary venues, Am Fasgadh (Kingussie) and Turus Tìm (Newtonmore) only 2 1/2 miles - 4 km apart.

Located on the A86 the sites are easily found by following sign posts to The Highland Folk Museum off the main A9.

There is ample FREE coach and car parking at both venues and a Tourist Information Centre at Am Fasgadh.

Opening Hours

Am Fasgadh - Kingussie

1st May to 31st August

Monday - Saturday: 10am - 5.30pm
(last admission 4.30pm)

Sunday: 1pm - 5pm (last admission 4pm)

1st September to 31st October

Monday - Friday: Guided tours: 10am - 5.30pm
(last tour at 4.30pm)

Turus Tìm - Newtonmore

1st May to 31st August

Monday - Friday: 11am - 5.00pm
(last admission at 3.30pm)

For Further Information

Highland Folk Museum
Duke Street . Kingussie
Inverness-shire
Scotland . PH21 1JG
Telephone: 01540 661307

Baile Gean Township, Turus Tìm

Am Fasgadh - Kingussie

Chaidh an Taigh Tasgaidh a stèidheachadh ann an 1935 le Dr I.F. Granntach agus tha e toirt dealbh air an doigh beatha anns na lathaichean chaidh seachad. Anns na latha an duigh se taigh tasgaidh tha air aithneachadh mar aite le beairteas de chruinneachadh tha toirt dealbh de beatha nan Gaidheal seachad air na trì linninn mu dheireadh.

Turus Tìm - Newtonmore

Tha an Taigh - Tasgaidh siar fhas! Air 80 ac' da phairt tha eachdraidh a tighinn beo. Coimhead, air na leasachaidhean aig an Taigh Tasgaidh Fhosgailte. Taghal air Croit Aultlarie, eisimpleir de tuathanas tha air obrachadh. Coimhead cuideachd air an leasachadh a thaobh an 1700 Baile Gaidhealach - "Baile Geann".

Designed by The Graphics Unit . Cultural & Leisure Services . The Highland Council

The HIGHLAND FOLK MUSEUM

Am Fasgadh
Kingussie

Turus Tìm
Newtonmore

Scotland's Highland
Heritage Brought
To Life . . .

The Rest
Is History!

Am Fasgadh - Kingussie

History Founded in 1935 by Dr I.F. Grant, the Highland Folk Museum gives a fascinating insight into the way life was lived in the Highlands in days gone by. Today it is the major social history museum for the Highlands and is internationally recognised for the wealth of its collections.

Collections These distinctive collections depict the life of the Highlander (crofter to clan chief) over the last three centuries.

Experience the atmosphere of a reconstructed Isle of Lewis Black House.

Witness the ingenuity of the Highland craftsmen.

Sense the hardship and toil of the crofter.

Discover the many other treasures the Museum has to offer.

Live Demonstrations

Traditional music, Highland sports and a variety of craft activities. Come and join in with many of these activities in a programme which runs daily through July and August.

Facilities

Based in the heart of Kingussie, this picturesque six acre site provides visitors with not only a museum, but also a Tourist Information Centre, shop, picnic area and ample car parking facilities.

Turus Tìm - Newtonmore

The Highland Folk Museum continues to develop!

On this 80 acre site, history is being brought to life and the past is being rediscovered.

Baile Gean Township

Be amazed by the ongoing reconstruction of a circa 1700 Highland township, built of turf, thatch, wood and stone. Enter and share the warmth of these Highland homes.

Open Air Museum In 1998 the Museum of Buildings is growing. Being added to Leanach Church is a 19th Century school, a clock maker's workshop, and a water powered sawmill.

Aultlarie Croft New for this year is a furnished agricultural worker's house. Life and work still goes on at this early 20th Century working farm. Discover crops, livestock, implements and a surprising variety of field boundaries.

Facilities

Reception, toilets, car park and picnic facilities. Small sales outlet featuring items made on site. Woodland and farm walks.